

SKULL OPEN SO BRAIN CAN GROW

Remarkable Operation on Little Girl, Which Is Probably Successful, Although It Has Always Been Mortal.

PIES OF BONE SAWED OUT.

Child's Stunted Seat of Thought Will Now Have a Chance to Develop to Normal Size in Two Directions.

Little Ethel Trundy's intellectual development, which was suspended four years ago by the cramping of her brain, will again take up its normal growth as the result of a remarkable operation in which two large pieces of bone were removed from her skull. This operation, which was performed in the Polytechnic Hospital on East Thirty-fourth street, though tried before many times has never been successful, so that the success attending the experiment on the twelve-year-old girl is being watched with the keenest interest by surgeons all over the country, as it may mean the bringing of light to thousands of children blighted with idiosyncrasy in their infancy.

Four years ago Capt. Thomas Trundy, of Lake Mahopack, N. Y., discovered that his little girl's mind had ceased to develop. He sought the best medical talent that the country afforded, but without success.

Finally he was informed that because of the ossification of a bone in the skull the child's brain was cramped in too narrow a confine to allow of its further growth and that the only hope was in an operation of the most serious nature and which had hitherto failed in the accomplishment of any good. Dr. Thomas J. Briggs, an eminent surgeon, of Stamford, Conn., told him that it would be necessary to remove two pieces of the frontal bone in the girl's forehead.

He told the unhappy father that the operation might result in his child's death. Capt. Trundy, however, decided to allow the experiment to be made. Dr. Briggs performed the operation, assisted by Dr. Frederick N. Whitehouse, of No. 64 West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street. Dr. Whitehouse, when questioned about the operation by an Evening World reporter this morning, said:

"Although it is rather early to be certain that the operation proved a success in allowing the brain to grow to its normal size, I feel much encouraged to receive favorable reports regarding the patient's condition from the hospital. Similar operations have often been performed, but always unsuccessfully, either because the patient was at too advanced an age or because the brain was deformed and weak at the time of the operation. In this case a small button of bone, varying from about the size of a button to the size of a coin, was removed from the parietal bone on the side of the head. In doing this the periosteum, a membrane over the bone, is not cut away, but simply lifted off, and after the bone is removed it is sewed together again. This gives the bone opportunity to expand by pushing the periosteum outward and the growth of the bone is resumed by the natural development of the periosteum.

"In this case Dr. Briggs has taken away much larger pieces of bone than usual and a decided growth or expansion is already noted. Thus far, conditions are most favorable for a successful outcome for this experiment and hitherto unsuccessful operation."

SELF-ACCUSED GIRL ACQUITTED.

Grand Jury Fails to Find Indictment Against Miss Rodella Bain.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Henry Nolan, the man for love of whom Miss Rodella Bain confessed she killed her rival, Miss Gay Smith, by throwing her into the river, displays no emotion or interest in the acquittal of his sweetheart, but the dead girl's father is wildly indignant over the failure of the Grand Jury to indict.

The jury held that there was no evidence outside of Miss Bain's confession, which could not be introduced under the statutes until the crime had been established by other proof.

It is feared that Miss Bain, who has already attempted suicide and is still in the hospital suffering from nervous prostration, may become insane.

IDENTIFIES HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Russell Says He Is Man Found Asphyxiated with Another Woman. Mrs. John Russell, of No. 209 Conover street, Brooklyn, to-day identified as that of her husband the body of the man found with a woman, whose identity is not known, in a room in a Raines law hotel at No. 171 Washington street, where both had died of gas asphyxiation.

Russell told his wife he was going on a hunting trip, but the registry in the hotel shows that he went directly there after leaving his home. The woman found with him is about thirty years old and five feet four inches in height.

WAS A MISS ROBINSON.

Sister of Jersey Man, Who Died in Seattle, Sought.

A letter was received to-day from the Postmaster, Seattle, Wash., by Chief of Police Murphy, of Jersey City, inquiring for the relatives of George Robinson, who died and was buried in Seattle Oct. 14, 1902.

Robinson served on the steamship St. Louis before going to the gold fields. He told Postmaster Palmer of Seattle that he had a sister married to a plumber living in Jersey City.

CAVE BAD CHECK; HAS DELIRIUM.

Guest Arrested at Fifth Avenue Hotel After Getting $415 in Good Money in Bellevue Alcoholic Ward.

STILL ANOTHER CHARGE.

John Chase, formerly a guest of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, was not able to appear in Jefferson Market Court to-day to answer a charge of having given a fraudulent check in payment of his board bill. He is now in the prison ward at Bellevue Hospital with delirium tremens.

Chase is thirty-five years old, well dressed, and, save for his present predicament, suave and impressive. He had been staying at the Fifth Avenue some weeks when he presented to the cashier his check for $500, drawn on the First National Bank of Webster, Mass., receiving $415 in change. When the check came back with the laconic comment "No funds," Henry Villas, proprietor of the hotel, had Chase arrested.

Detective Sergeant Armstrong took Chase to Police Headquarters, where it presently developed that there was another complaint against him, similar to that made by Mr. Villas.

A man of the name of Cox charges that Chase, while staying with him at a sanitarium at South Windham, Conn., borrowed various sums of money from him to the aggregate amount of $800, and upon being pressed for payment gave him a check drawn on the Webster Bank for $600, receiving $40 in change.

After his arraignment in Jefferson Market Court, where his case was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon, Chase was taken back to Police Headquarters and locked in a cell. It was there that he was taken with alcoholic mania in the night and became so violent that he was with difficulty restrained from injuring himself.

He was taken first to St. Vincent's Hospital and then to Bellevue, where the clerks at the Fifth Avenue do not know where Chase came from and not much has been learned about his history.

KAISER'S VISIT MAY FAIL.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Will the visit of Emperor William have any influence in bringing about in England a spirit of jovial good-fellowship and complaisance toward all things German?

This question, put forward in the newspapers, is answered by the public at large with the assertion that even if there were any possibility of the Kaiser's visit effecting a realization of this idea, the good feeling would not be reciprocated by Germany, where public opinion, like the Government, is always at sword's point with anything amicable.

HILL CLIMBING.

Food That Makes it a Pleasure.

"I have a large amount of laborious brain-fatiguing work to do," writes a young lady from Richmond, Va. "After returning from the office, I have found myself so completely exhausted that I was unable to engage in any recreation or amusement."

"I tried several expensive tonics without effect, and finally noticing an advertisement of Grape-Nuts as a food recommended to brain workers, I purchased a package and tried it. I found it extremely palatable, and after a week's use (two meals of it a day) I noticed a general improvement in my condition, the feeling of extreme exhaustion was growing less, and strength visibly increased. I began to put on flesh and felt ready to enter into the amusements of the other members of the family, and now, after using the food for eleven months, I am like a new person. I have absolutely no sensation of fatigue; my brain is clear; eyes bright; skin rosy and healthy, and my muscles have strengthened to a marked degree. I am now able to walk from the office home, a distance of 3-1/2 miles, up one of the steepest hills for which our city is famous, and to engage in any amusements that may come in my way, without any sensation of extra fatigue."

"I am also using your Postum Food Coffee with excellent results. My sister-in-law, who lives in Norwalk, Conn., writes me that she uses it also, and has not suffered from the distressing sick headaches she formerly had. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

The face of Eleanora Duse to the casual observer is not beautiful, save in moments of animation, when it seems to be able to express every step in the gamut of human feeling. There are times when looking at her one sees only an almost plain Italian woman whose youth is past. At these moments she resembles the poor, tired Italian mothers that one sees sometimes in the cars, with huge, misshapen bundles in their laps.

The great tragedienne's wonderful eyes have the same look of pathetic weariness, of stolid endurance, and there is the same pathetic droop of the mouth. But on the stage, animated by the genius which few, if any, dispute, Duse changes in one moment from the tragic world-weary woman to the incarnation of youth and passion. Then her features, which in repose are irregular, and even somewhat coarse, seem beautiful.

Duse's eyes are never ordinary, however. Sometimes they seem more wonderfully varied in expression than in her quieter moments, but the fire of genius smolders in them always.

Her figure is not particularly symmetrical, and she looks best in the long, flowing gowns which she generally affects on the stage and in private life.

DONNELL SWAN MARRIES AGAIN.

Baltimore Clubman, Whose Former Wife Is Now Mrs. Elisha Dyer, Jr., Weds Miss Wilson.

Donnell Swan, of Baltimore, whose former wife is now Mrs. Elisha Dyer, Jr., of Newport, is spending his second honeymoon to-day in Atlantic City. He has been married to Miss Ella Dallett Wilson, of Baltimore, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. E. Swift, No. 229 West End avenue, this city.

Because Mr. Swan had been divorced, it was said that the Protestant-Episcopal and Presbyterian ministers of his home city were averse to acting at the service. Thus it came that New York was selected as the place of the wedding. Only a few near friends were present, Rev. Dr. Morse officiating.

Mr. Swan is a son of Mrs. John Swan, a Baltimore society leader, and a cousin of Mrs. Henry Barton Jacobs, formerly Mrs. Robert Garrett. James Swan, Jr., son of Senator Vesey, of Missouri, was round dead in his room at a hotel here this morning.

Mr. Swan for a number of years had acted as private secretary to his father.
